

For My World

A love letter in slides

From Blue, with all my heart

Our Story

August

We Met

The beginning of everything

August 29th

First Date

Where the magic started

September

Official

You became my world

Why I Love You

You engage my psyche, my human soul and mind in a way is beyond my understanding. Being with you feels so natural and God-made, baby.

The definition of love when I think of you isn't because of one specific thing — it's because of every specific thing: your eyes, your laugh, your smile, your heart, and most of all, the light you bring to my life.

My Promise to You

I have never and would never take you for granted. That commitment is not just personal — it's because there really isn't anyone else in this world called 'My World' who can fill the place of love in my heart.

You are irreplaceable.

★ Our Little Moments

The Sign-Out Shirt

The day I got you a shirt for your sign-out and had you wait for a long time because of it and I had to write an apology on the cake I bought you the next day.

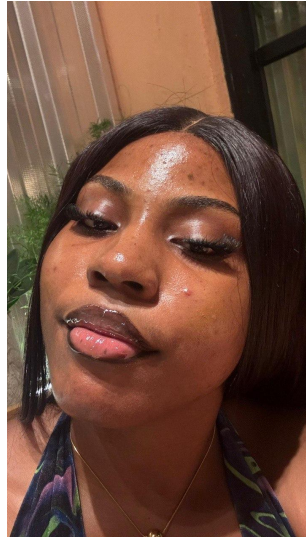

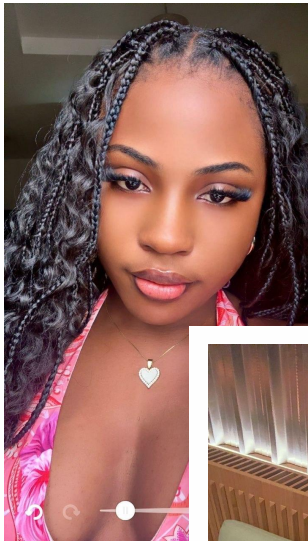

The Foodie Reveal

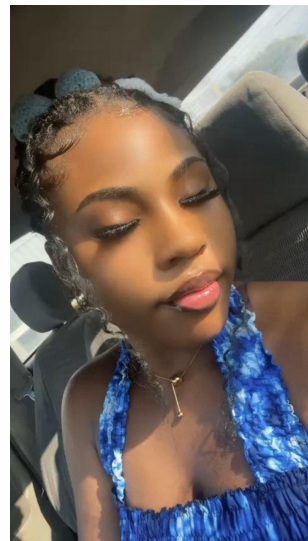

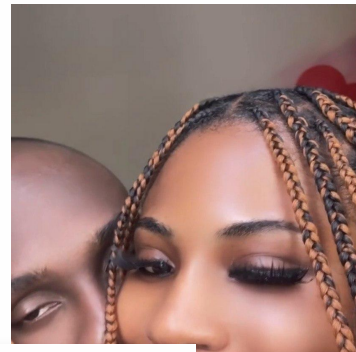

You compelled me to finish on our first date... and on a different date I finished mine before yours came. And yes, I had your ice cream same day too.

P.S. You still complain when I say "oh my got" 😊

My World

My favorite photos

My World,

Will You Be My Valentine?

I love you endlessly.

Forever yours, Blue 